August 2024

-Vector Solutions Platform- sexual assault prevention training for students, faculty, and staff. Converse University facilitated comprehensive training sessions for every student on campus, ensuring they completed the training twice—once in the Fall semester and again in the Spring semester. This approach not only reinforced the material but also maximized student engagement.

- One of the notable aspects of Converse's prevention program was its ability to tailor the training content to meet the unique needs of various campus groups. For example, Converse customized specific modules for athletes, first-year students, and other targeted populations, allowing them to address their distinct circumstances and enhance their understanding of consent and prevention strategies.

Besides the training, Converse utilized grant funds from SCIP to promote awareness about sexual assault resources across campus. Converse designed and distributed informative resource flyers in every dorm room and common area throughout the campus. These flyers included crucial information about available support services, hotlines, and educational resources to ensure students knew what help they could access if needed.

-Training for Trends Workshop for Staff

Medical University of South Carolina

Education and awareness programs, policy training initiatives, and prevention programs for the 2024-2025 academic year.

August 2024

- Specialized CSA Training: Campus Security Authorities (CSAs) receive additional, specialized training to fulfill their specific responsibilities under the Clery Act and Violence Against Women Act (VAWA).

- Ongoing and Specialized Educational Initiatives

Office of Federal and State Compliance:

The OFSC conducts ad hoc training sessions throughout the year, tailored to the specific needs of departments, divisions, and colleges.

All OFSC members maintain their expertise through annual training via the SUNY Student Conduct Institute (SCI). This valuable training resource is also available to the entire MUSC community (anyone with an MUSC email address), promoting broader awareness and education. Further details can be found at <https://web.musc.edu/about/leadership/institutional-offices/organizational-engagement-and-excellence/federal-and-state-compliance/title-ix/prevention-and-education>.

Enterprise-Wide Intimate Partner Violence and Sexual Assault (IPV/SA) Committee: This dedicated committee meets regularly to develop innovative programming and organize events, raise community awareness about IPV and SA, and educate on prevention strategies and appropriate responses.

- National Crime Victims Research and Treatment Center: MUSC is home to the National Crime Victims Research and Treatment Center, a leading national center which significantly bolsters our capabilities by providing specialized, on-site clinical expertise for patients who have experienced sexual assault or intimate partner violence, and by contributing extensively to educational and training opportunities for the entire MUSC community.

- Additional Clinical Training: Given its specialized nature, MUSC provides additional educational sessions and training from expert clinicians (including physicians, forensic nurses, social workers, clinical psychologists, and researchers). This training focuses on equipping healthcare providers with the knowledge and skills to:

- (1) Clinically respond to patients who have experienced sexual assault or intimate partner violence.
- (2) Collaborate effectively with other partners in providing comprehensive care and support.

These offerings include virtual continuing education modules such as:

Mosby's Essential Nursing Continuing Education: Intimate Partner Violence

Mosby's Essential Nursing CE: Sexual Assault

Mosby's Essential Nursing CE: Sexual Harassment: Maintaining a Respectful Work Environment

Importantly, while these clinical training programs are designed with healthcare professionals in mind, they are also made available to all members of the MUSC community, including students and administrative employees, further broadening the reach of this critical knowledge.

-MUSC's approach to prevention and education is dynamic, continuously reviewed, and updated to ensure its effectiveness and relevance. By integrating training at multiple touchpoints and engaging various stakeholders, MUSC strives to create a campus culture where safety is paramount, and every member is empowered to contribute to a respectful and violence-free environment.

Wofford College

Education and awareness programs, policy training initiatives, and prevention programs for the 2024-2025 academic year.

August 2024

- New Student Athlete Orientation

- President's Cabinet Training

- Coaching Staff Training

- Annual RA Title IX Training

- New Student Training

-August was focused on getting some preliminary training done for the campus community. It was geared toward guaranteeing that all students, faculty, and staff had a baseline understanding of Title IX. The standout training was the President's Cabinet training. Speaking to senior-level administrators about the changes to Title IX is significant because it helps establish a partnership that will be invaluable as you move into the semester.

September 2024

- Training Initiatives:

 - Library Staff

 - Title IX for Orientation Leaders

 - Athletics Coaches and Staff

 - Catharsis Implementation

 - Talking Title IX in the Upstate Conference

September focused on continuing the process of educating our professional staff. Specifically, the staff that we do not often think about are our library and athletics staff. These two populations have high student interaction but are not traditionally given the same level of training attention as other groups. Getting in front of them was helpful because it guaranteed that we could have them prepared moving forward. We implemented the Catharsis Asynchronous training software to improve our Title IX administration and preparation.

The Title IX office also organized the Talking Title IX in the Upstate conference on the Wofford College campus. This conference was dedicated to bringing Title IX coordinators from the area to the Wofford College campus to discuss different issues related to Title IX administration on college campuses. Over 65 Title IX professionals were on campus for a day of fellowship and networking.

South Carolina Sexual Violence Prevention Grant Information

The South Carolina Institute on the Prevention of Sexual Violence on College Campuses (SCIP) is now accepting applications for the 2024-2025 South Carolina Sexual Violence Prevention Grant. SCIP aims to play a critical role in the coordination and collaboration of strategic development and implementation of best practice standards across South Carolina higher education campuses to prevent interpersonal violence. An effective prevention strategy must go beyond a one-time event or program. Thus, the South Carolina Sexual Violence Prevention Grant is intended to serve as a supplemental funding source to support a more comprehensive prevention plan designed by the grant recipient.

The purpose of the South Carolina Sexual Violence Grant is to promote innovative initiatives and best practices to educate and build awareness around complex issues of sexual harassment, including sexual assault, dating or domestic violence, gender-based harassment or bullying, and stalking. Grant institution recipients will be awarded up to $4,000, which must be used by May 15, 2025. Funding can be used to create multiple programs or events.

Grant applicants should demonstrate how the institution will use the funds to support at least one of the following initiatives.

- Develop targeted prevention strategies to broaden the awareness of rape culture and to decrease the incidence of sexual harassment, including sexual assault, dating or domestic violence, gender-based harassment or bullying, and stalking on campus.
- Develop a program or series dedicated to healthy relationships.
- Create a safer campus through participation in bystander intervention programming geared toward sexual assault prevention and high-risk behaviors.
- Establish a peer educator program that promotes a safe, healthy campus free from sexual violence. Peer educators may choose to address consent, rape myths, risk factors, and/ or social norms.
- Create a sexual assault resource fair that collaborates with campus and community members.
- Develop a research project related to interpersonal violence, sexual aggression, consent, or other areas tied to sexual harassment and assault.

- Develop a campus climate survey to understand better the scope of community issues related to sexual violence.

Innovation, collaboration, and creativity are encouraged when developing programming ideas for the grant

If awarded grant funding, the institution recipient will agree to work with their marketing and communications department to develop a press release highlighting their prevention events and SCIP. An example can be found here. Additionally, the award recipient will complete a post-event(s) evaluation describing how the money was specifically used, what outcomes were met, and how the program (s) served the institution's sexual assault prevention goals. Contact executive director Matthew Hammett at 864-388-8448 or mhammett@lander.edu with any questions. To learn more about SCIP, please visit <https://scip.sc.gov>.
